

Exclusively For Your Employees

Free Lunch Hour Home Buyer Seminar

Are you looking to provide a free benefit for your employees? We can teach a free first time homebuyer seminar at your location either during a lunch hour or immediately after work.

Quite a few companies in the area allow this seminar because they know that empowering their employees with the knowledge and tools to buy their own home is truly invaluable.

We only deal with first time homebuyers and we teach this seminar three to four times a month. We are always joined by a mortgage broker / lender so your employees get a full perspective as to how the whole process works.
